FARMER BIO

K & M Packing, LLC. are grower/processors on 1000+ acres in New Hampton, NY, mainly growing spring mix, baby spinach, arugula and onions. They have been supplying raw product to well known processors for over 5 years. With over 2 million pounds shipped last year they are seasoned farmers, growing 20 varieties of baby greens. In May of 2009 they became vertically integrated building a state of the art packing/processing facility adjacent to their farm. Both the fields and the facility are HACCP certified and meet all federal regulations. A third party auditing agency is also in place.

The result is the freshest product available .We cut and process the same day. Every case of mix will contain 10-15 different lettuces at all times. In the off season we have growing deals in place in California, and Arizona.

Baby Greens come in a resealable no tear breathable bag with food grade low tack. This bag can be opened and closed multiple times, takes up less space and is easier to store. The farm's focus is to bring forward a strong East Coast presence of local items with competitive pricing, quality and convenience.
